DOING BUSINESS DIFFERENTLY

This is Lucy's most booked speech topic of all time. It includes universally relatable themes with the neuroscience and real-life examples to back it all up.

From prison officers to senior executives, nurses to mortgage brokers, employees and business owners: this topic hits hard in all the right places. If you want your people feeling motivated, inspired and ready to conquer, this is the topic and the speaker for you.

Take-homes include but not limited to:

1. Discover how your thoughts can be your biggest health problem and how to wrangle them for success
2. Learn how chasing squirrels delivers valuable skillsets, life-changing joy and career highlights
3. Gain access to courage in the same way that the military takes a new recruit afraid of heights and turns them into a paratrooper
4. Consider resilience not as a rare talent but as a key decision you make when set-backs change your life story
5. See how kindness to others extends your life expectancy and boosts productivity
6. Learn how and why change should be something you should seek daily rather than avoid
7. Understand why fun is not a luxury but one of the most important keys to team work, longevity and robust mental health
